

Harrogate promises a top-notch show

This week there is certainly a buzz in the air as far as Harrogate Nursery Fair is concerned with numerous retail buyers and members of the press registering to use the VIP executive lounge as well as new exhibitors snapping up last minute space provided by the addition of Hall E.

Entries to the BPA Baby and Nursery Trade Awards (BANTAs) are also now flooding in and, if the standard of those received so far are anything to go by, visitors to Harrogate are in for a real treat with some fabulous new products launching at the show this year.

The Awards will be announced at the Party Night held at the Majestic Hotel on Sunday 25th March – tickets for this are now on sale, so don't miss out on a fabulous night's entertainment. The host for the evening is Allan Stewart of Royal Variety Performance acclaim, followed by dancing to a brilliant live band – The Sway Allstars Orchestra. Members of this not-to-be-missed star studded group have worked for top acts such as Robbie Williams, Enrique Iglesias, Kylie Minogue and Ronan Keating.

Bigger boost

The Mi booster cushion is the latest new product from Minene UK Ltd, providing the perfect solution for toddlers who are too big for their high chairs but not quite big enough to sit unaided at the table. Lightweight and durable, the Mi booster attaches to most standard dining chairs with safety straps, which double as backpack straps for children on the go! Ideal for use in the home, eating out and travelling, the cushion even comes with crayons and a colouring in book, ensuring toddlers will be well entertained while sitting at the table. The cover can be easily removed for machine washing and is currently available in four stylish designs.

Happy hopping

A retro theme is all the rage for Pre Shoes which, continuing on from its successful Classic Camper Van and Retro Camper Van range of baby shoes, is adding a fabulous new Retro Space Hopper design to its collection. Another British design inspiration by Susie Warner, these blue soft leather shoes with anti-slip suede sole will have parents and babies jumping for joy and, available in three sizes from birth to 18 months, are attractively packaged to make the ideal gift.

Warm and colourful

For parents who prefer to dress their little ones in fashionable yet sustainable clothing, Kite Kids will be launching its gorgeous new range of autumn and winter children's clothing at Harrogate Nursery Fair this year, evoking wistful memories of brambles and blackberry juice running down chins! Autumn berries is a collection for girls aged 2-11 years, whilst Falling Leaves combines magical russet reds, sage and gold colours for boys of the same age. There is also a stunning collection for younger children from birth to 3 years. Don't miss Kite Kids on Stand QP50.

Dreambaby re-launches in the UK

Renowned for its extensive range of safety solutions for young ones from gates and feeding items to out and about goods, Tee-Zed Products Ltd is re-launching its Dreambaby brand at Harrogate Nursery Fair this year in response to numerous request and enquires. UK and Irish general manager, Darren Curtis, explains: “We chose Harrogate because it’s the perfect platform to re-introduce Dreambaby and let our nursery customers know our plans going forward. All stock is now being housed in our new UK warehouse and we have systems in place to make ordering and delivery fast and easy.

We are bringing a number of new gates to offer a wider choice and a vastly extended range of safety and care items including bath seats.”
