

Relaxed and friendly

Harrogate International Nursery Fair closed its doors on the 2018 show today and retailers and buyers returned to their stores with the promise of lots of exciting new stock lines for the coming year.

Kerry Haynes of Media Snug said; “I really enjoyed the show this year and had lots of press meetings. I liked the layout of the halls and there was a warm and friendly atmosphere throughout.”

Exhibitor Claire Alexander of Mummy Loves Organics also enjoyed the show, saying: “The layout has been really good for us. We saw lots of independent retailers and many major buyers – and felt that the atmosphere was very relaxed and friendly. Rather than rushing about, people had more time to stop and talk business.”

Adrian Sneyd, show organiser said: “We would like to thank everyone who attended Harrogate – both exhibitors and visitors – for supporting the show and making it a successful event. We look forward to welcoming everyone back again next year. The dates are 24th to 26th March 2019.”
