

Last chance to see the latest new baby products

The halls of the Harrogate International Centre saw lots of business activity today as retailers and buyers peruse a variety of fabulous new products at the show.

Notable ranges well worth a look include Bebylux in Hall M with a smart new collection of car seats – made in the UK and already coveted by a number of celebrities. PHP Gift and Baby which won Best New Product in the Baby Products Association's BANTA Awards for its 'Grow and Tell' a gorgeous set of quality baby vests with a chalk board on the front and pen included so that parents can write amusing comments on babies' garments; also has a stand packed with gorgeous baby gift ranges.

Cloud b Beebop is a totally cute little alien with colourful lights and sounds that totally enchanted the BANTA judges scooping the award for best sleep product can be seen on stand C96; whilst Halilit's BANTA winning Musical Rings can be viewed on Stand B27. Also, check out Little Chick London's beautiful new Swaddle Robe which the judges highly commended – this can be seen on stand M14.

If you are attending the show tomorrow (Thursday) be sure to look out for the Baby Products Association's BANTA certificates around the show highlighting shortlisted, highly commended and winning products – these are products which the judges thought really stood out and believe will sell well to consumers.

If you haven't already attended the show, Thursday is your last chance. The doors are open from 9.00 am until 4.00 pm. For full information, visit the website at www.nurseryfair.com
