

Harrogate holds rates for early-bird bookings

Companies planning to join the UK's only nursery trade show in March 2016 can snap up a bargain by booking early this year. The organisers of Harrogate International Nursery Fair have announced that they will be holding the 2015 exhibitor rate for confirmed bookings received for the same stand positions before the deadline. Exhibitors have until 1st July 2015 to return their forms to secure this deal; after this date stand rates will increase by five percent.

Adrian Sneyd, show organiser, said: "Venue hire and show costs continue to increase, however we have decided to reward early-bird bookings by honouring the 2015 rate for the first time this year. Providing we receive the 25% deposit payment in full by the end of July 2015 we will honour the 2015 rates. By not only securing your stand position early to guarantee location, avoiding the potential five percent increase will certainly make this a worthwhile saving and shows our commitment to maintain exhibition costs for 2016."

Any NEW exhibitor or those returning and wanting to request to move next year can also secure the EARLY BIRD rates and will be given first priority to relocate providing they return their booking form stating the stand size required and pay the deposit appropriate to this size by the end of July.
