

Great start to the show

The first day of Harrogate International Nursery Fair attracted brisk business with busy halls and buzzing activity on the stands. The Hub in Hall H proved a major attraction with visitors heading to see the many brand new exhibitors at the show this year. This was also the venue for the show's seminar programme with the first presentation by TRL describing some frightening car seat misuse statistics.

The BPA's Concept & Innovation Awards stand also attracted a lot of attention, with members of the press and buyers showing interest in the four finalist's entrepreneurial product ideas. The winners of these awards and also the BPA Baby and Nursery Trade Awards (BANTA) were announced at The Majestic Hotel last night – a full list of winners will be highlighted on the BPA website today. If you didn't attend today, you still have plenty of time to come along and view some great new baby products for the coming season.

The doors open from 9.30am until 6.00pm today and from 9.30am until 4.00pm tomorrow – so we hope to see you there.
